scripted origin

unscripted outcome

INTUITION

ACCIDENT

ACT 1

ACT 3

ACT 4

ACT 2

ACT 5

(DRAMATIZATION)

AN OCCURANCE &

PERFORMANCE

The location is given

A source can be coy, but might be found by remote dowsing...

A boulder whose erosion patterns mimic those of the site when seen from above is located nearby

A problem is worked out to reveal a sequence of points of common interest within the vicinity of an accident

A chart of the pattern is drafted,

then transposed onto the parcel with a palette knife

The corresponding site of the 'accident' is the likely location of the source.

A proof is performed-

The chart is inadvertantly altered as a result of the reckless reenactment

The parcel is altered to match the newly blood dappled chart using some spare dirt

Fixed to an eligible driver, a pipe is hammered into the ground at the accident site and water coaxed to the surface

Cameling permits for a dispersal of groundwater onto the mound crowns

Vegetation springs forth mimmicing the color negative of the altered chart

ACCIDENT

IN ORIENTAL CALIFORNIA

INADVERTENCE

INTENTION

VIDEO: 14 MIN. 51 SEC.
CHRISTOPHER JAMES