

Christopher James
Death Valley Proposal
Radio (The death of Spicer Breeden)

This activity consists of driving a BMW 540i, with a crushed front left fender, into the DVNP, filling it with fuel at the park service station, parking it alongside the road, exiting the car and preparing it a bit, then running it on an extremely high RPM with the gears disengaged until it gives out.

The preparations are:

1. setting the radio to a local station on high volume
2. running a pipe connected to the exhaust through a window
3. turning on a CO2 air filter which will clean the interior air/exhaust before discharging it back outdoors
4. blacking out the windows with spray paint
5. removing the coolant cap

The event will be recorded by 5 CCTV cams on tripods and uploaded to the site in a typical security screen format (below). One space will be blank on a six picture-in-picture layout.

Reference imagery:

